G e n t l e m e n :-

We are in receipt of your postal under date of 29th inst., and in reply beg to say that we are sorry for any delay which may have occurred in this matter. We are to-day, acting solely at your request and do not even know that what we are doing is right.

The package of coins, upon which we have entered, we are hourly expecting at our office, and as soon as received will immediately forward to you by express. This may be as we hope, to-day.

You can be no more anxious, than we to have this matter closed up, as it certainly would be as much, if not more injury to our business than to yours, were the fault on this side.

Yours Very Truly,

Baldwin Bros & Co

Messrs S.H. & H.Chapman,

Gentlemen :-

We are in receipt of your favor of the 7th instant, and carefully note what you say- we shall of course, avail ourselves of whatever privilege to get this box of coins released without further delay and we are now making this our special business.

We are as much at a loss, to understand the action of the Examiner as you. We have no doubt the matter will straighten out all right, but of course the delay caused thereby, is as annoying to us as it possibly can be to you. You understand the modus operandi of the Customs, can well understand our position, and of course put the blame where it belongs, but where this is not the case, it becomes more than a disagreeable, hence our anxiety to get the goods out of our hands with all possible speed.

You will hear from us further, and receive the package at the very earliest possible moment.

Yours Truly,

Dear Sirs:-

The coins we admit have been here for a long time but up to the time of entry and even later the trouble lay on the other side in the Shippers not promptly sending the necessary documents.

You may be sure that we shall leave nothing undone to get this package into your hands at the earliest possible moment, as we are as anxious to get the matter closed as you possibly can be to receive the goods.

Yours Very Truly,

Gentlemen:

We are amazed at the receipt of your postal card this morning, especially so as we cannot but believe that you must be thoroughly conversant with all the circumstances tending the import and handling of the coins in question. You know that a case arose respecting duty thereon, and the matter had to be laid before the Secretary of the Treasury and that our appeal was denied. If you have not any experience in such matters you must know that it takes considerable time, and is great to accomplish its ultimate delivery, as we have to export them out of the United States and bring them back again. They are now in process of clearance, and you will have to wait. But these circumstances we advised you of and they were sent in home. Two hundred of your coins were in our office at different times, and they were never over leaving so much as we can remember, that at all times at this time the coins were being returned by them. The coins were therefore in our hands a surprise, and a rather unpleasant one.

Yours, of Wm. H. C. Co.

Very Respectfully,

Baldwin Bros. & Co.

Gentlemen:-

Referring to the package of coins for you from G. Darwin and now in customs, we beg to ask that you send us a detailed statement of those belonging to you, as our invoice does not specify, and the examiner declines to pass unless she has such a memorandum to identify the goods.

You would also oblige us by giving us this information promptly as we desire to effect delivery as soon as possible.

This has been an annoying and very unsatisfactory affair to us and has cost us much labor and expense for which we can hardly charge any one. The original entry as you know was returned by the examiner as unreliable, and we were obliged to export and return them again, so under this new mark and number so that the owner of the goods may not be known.

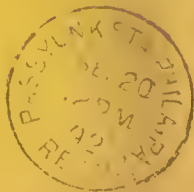

Yours Truly,

Baldwin Bros & Co
